Please note that because Baltimore Lab School's academic day (i.e., 8:00 AM to 3:15 PM) is comprised of seven 55 minute periods, pull-out sessions during the school day are typically 45 minutes in order to account for transition and planning time. In accordance with school policy, payment for related services provided during the school day is required in addition to tuition. If you are interested in services before or after school, some clinicians offer a limited number of outpatient session openings; these sessions are typically 30 or 45 minutes. For more information, please contact a member of the related service team.
